Dear Boscov's Traveler:

In an effort to keep you apprised of the current travel environment regarding COVID-19 / Coronavirus, we would like to reassure you that your welfare and well-being is of the utmost importance to us. We know it is a very difficult time, and it is affecting every corner of the world. We are continually monitoring all global travel locations and will keep you informed of anything that will affect your travel. We are also staying informed and updated on the medical side of this issue by following and monitoring details from the Center for Disease Control (CDC), the World Health Organization (WHO) and Johns Hopkins.

Our company has been in business for 46 years, and we have weathered many challenges in that time. We are committed to you, and pride ourselves on keeping you up-to-date and prepared for travel. Now is no different. We have the resources and information available to guide you through this difficult time and provide you the peace of mind you need to ensure you experience the exciting, enjoyable and relaxing trip you planned.

We sincerely appreciate your business and ongoing confidence in Boscov's Travel. We take your trust in us seriously, and will always place you first, advocating for your best interests.

Thank you for your loyalty. We are very grateful for your business. We will be in touch.

Kind Regards,

Pat K. Cinfici
President
